

Global HVACR Provider Achieves Cool Compliance Outcomes With GAN Integrity

PICTURE THIS...

You are pioneering innovation in refrigeration and air conditioning technologies. As efficiency experts, you maximize energy efficiency in HVAC systems while delivering reliable performance for critical applications. Committed to sustainability, your eco-friendly products reduce environmental impact. Your global reach ensures top-quality refrigeration components serve industries worldwide. Recently spun out of a larger company, you have over 10,000 employees and locations all over the globe.

BUT...

Spinning out of a larger company has left you with old legacy GRC tools that require significant development resources and painfully long times to implement changes. User frustration is growing by the day due to these disparate tools and bespoke processes, creating a challenging and inefficient compliance environment.

SO...

You turn to GAN Integrity for a solution to your compliance challenges. Our unified solution for third-party risk management, custom audits, and document workflows gives you a single tool for all your compliance needs. With GAN Integrity, your compliance team gains full control over their processes. You can now adapt to anything, making changes and improvements in days, not months.

NOW

You enjoy faster throughput and the ability to easily adapt to any regulatory or business changes you face. With streamlined workflows and enhanced control, your team can focus on driving innovation and efficiency, ensuring the reliable performance and sustainability your industry demands. Today, the good work you do is — like driving sustainable outcomes — is finally getting the better support and resources it deserves.
