

Gifts & Entertainment

Design a streamlined intake flow to guide users through request submission processes and empower managers to effectively manage gifts and hospitalities with timeliness and consistency.

Solution Benefits

Managing gift and entertainment requests shouldn't slow down business. The Integrity Platform's Gifts and Entertainment application empowers organizations to embed disclosure management into operations, enhancing productivity across the business by ensuring:

- Higher engagement: Disclosure processes are tailored to regional requirements; from intake to review and escalation, allowing the right stakeholders to effectively process requests.
- Increased adoption: With an enhanced user experience, employees can easily submit, follow up, or edit requests using any tool at hand. Smart integrations centralize systems and reduce steps needed to effectively disclose transactions.
- Holistic risk management: Analyze request-related risks within your broader risk management program by connecting disclosure data to get meaningful insights on your company's exposure.
- Continuous improvement: With integrated communication tools, employees can collaborate with compliance to solve gray area scenarios while the platform's adaptable infrastructure allows you to reflect and improve on processes at scale.

“GAN Integrity started out as only our high-risk transaction platform, then became our transaction, conflict and government interaction system. Now it's just our Business Integrity platform.”

BARRICK

How it works

Simplify request management, deploy custom process workflows, and engage stakeholders business-wide.

Create a better user experience

Make sure that everyone in the organization can easily submit requests by creating a tailored intake flow to guide users through the submission process easily and quickly.

Elevate stakeholder collaboration

Automatically involve the right stakeholders in the review process to ensure risks are captured and mitigated with scalable and granular role-based access controls.

Increase productivity for your business

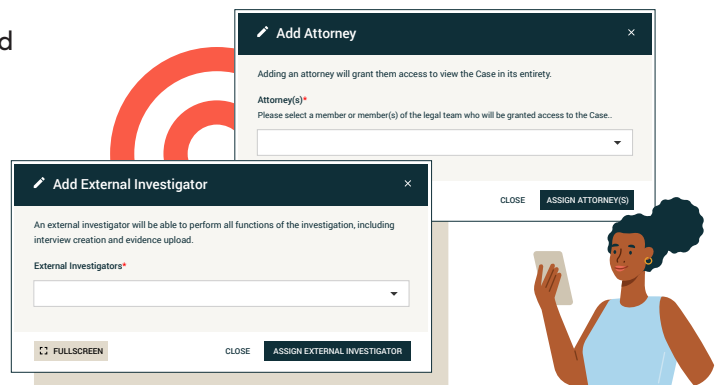

Leverage intelligent automation to route requests and guide users. Automatically approve low risk requests using conditions and pre-set thresholds.

Embed requests into the business

Connect your program to the rest of your enterprise platform suite and allow data to flow across systems and updates to requests to be automatically captured without disruption.

Enhance your reporting experience

Create tailored reports and leverage integrated analytics to hone in on disclosure data as well as related risks across the platform and provide meaningful insights to the business.

The Integrity Builder

Build your disclosure management program without the limitations of traditional technology.

Because no one size fits all, every gift and entertainment solution designed on the Integrity platform is tailored to meet your specific needs. With a flexible infrastructure you can tailor your program to design unique approval flows. Using dynamic and customizable user access controls you can accommodate your organizational structure to effectively engage stakeholders, at scale.
